♦ Ingredients & effect	  Comfrey  1. Comfrey: has been used as a medicinal plant for more than 2000 years. Hildegard von Bingen already knew about its effects and recommended this plant to treat leg ailments as well as to prevent inflammation, swelling and redness. Allantoin is regarded as the most important substance in comfrey. It is also widely used and appreciated in cosmetics as it accelerates the formation of new cells. 2. Peach kernel oil: is extracted from the milled kernels of the peach tree. It is light-yellow and thin and has a subtle scent reminding of almonds. Its composition is similar to almond oil. It is recommended for all skin types and as a massage and bath oil. When applied to the skin, it feels light and is absorbed well. This cold-pressed oil contains many essential fatty acids and vitamin E (free radical scavenger).
