Frangipani oil: is one of the most expensive additives used in Just Pure products and has an exotic, sweet, flowery and tropical aroma. In Asia the frangipani flower is considered to be a source of mental power and therefore used as an offering in temple rituals. 2. Macadamia nut oil: Macadamia is known as the queen of all nuts. The macadamia tree originally comes from Australia, New Zealand and the South Seas. 100 g of macadamia nuts produce 75 g of oil. Macadamia nut oil is completely absorbed by the skin making it velvety soft and smooth without leaving an oily film on the skin. What makes macadamia nut oil so special is its high content of palmitoleic acid of around 25%. Palmitoleic acid is almost exclusive to animal fats. Its composition is similar to our skin's own fatty acids. |
