♦ Ingredients & effect	   Calendula   1. Calendula extract: has been very appreciated in natural medicine for a very long time. Care products with calendula–Calendula officinalis – extract are particularly recommended for inflamed skin, inflammatory skin alterations as well as for slightly reddened and very sensitive skin, as it is said to have decongestive, anti-inflammatory and antibacterial properties, enhancing the natural healing process. Naturopaths love the calendula and even the most critical physicians know about the healing effect of this flower to treat damaged tissue. Of course it does not do magic, but there is hardly a better product for poorly healing wounds than creams with a high content of calendula. 2. Aloe Vera extract: has a high content of acemannan (sugar molecules that enhance the immune system to block free radicals) and moisture as well as multiple essential oils, many vitamins (A, C and E), minerals (calcium, potassium, iron, magnesium, zinc), enzymes, amino acids, saponins (carbohydrates with a purifying and anti-inflammatory effect) and essential fatty acids.
